MP for Halifax drops in on J&C Joel

Thursday 10 March saw the Member of Parliament for Halifax, Linda Riordan, visit J&C Joel's headquarters in Sowerby Bridge, West Yorkshire.

Mrs Riordan, a long-term friend of J&C Joel's CEO James Wheelwright and Chairman John Wheelwright, visited the offices to discuss the company's continuing success.

The Labour Co-operative MP has represented Halifax since 2005. She last visited J&C Joel in May 2010 when she was accompanied by the former Chancellor of the Exchequer Alistair Darling.

Born and raised in Halifax, Linda Riordan has long been a supporter of J&C Joel and visits their offices whenever she is able. Mrs Riordan said of the company, "I value the relationship I have always had with J&C Joel and I am delighted the company continues to grow and is an international success."

This visit came during the Halifax Evening Courier's "I Love Sowerby Bridge" campaign which is sponsored by J&C Joel and celebrates the people, attractions and businesses which have helped make Sowerby Bridge the fastest growing town in the borough of Calderdale.

Mrs Riordan added, "J&C Joel are at the heart of the Sowerby Bridge community and will continue to grow with the town. J&C Joel have always supported local people in Sowerby Bridge and I cannot think of a better sponsor for this campaign."
