Law and Order comes to J&C Joel

J&C Joel has a new lawman in qualified solicitor Oliver Marns, who joins the company as sales office manager.

Oliver joins J&C Joel after six years working as a commercial litigation and sports lawyer and has also worked as a UK area manager for a major international supermarket chain.

A decorated sportsman, Oliver has also played professional rugby for the Halifax Blue Sox during their time in rugby league's Super League and has represented Great Britain at junior level. He currently plays semi professional rugby union for Hull Ionians.

Oliver will manage J&C Joel's UK and export sales team members, as well as offering a wealth of legal and human resources knowledge and experience.

Oliver's appointment represents the latest measure taken to maximise the levels of service provided by J&C Joel's sales staff. Oliver's appointment will enable sales staff to build on their already high levels of customer service and continue to add value to customers' dealings with the company.

Everyone at J&C Joel would like to extend a warm welcome to Oliver and wish him great success in his new role.

J&C Joel would like to point out that this appointment will not affect customers' dealings with their J&C Joel area sales representative.
